

Fly Me to the Moon

with

Connie Evingson & Charles Lazarus

Connie Evingson

“...ultra hip... immense talent...”

- All About Jazz

“...one of the most polished and versatile vocalists on today’s jazz scene.”

- Modern Jazz Classics

With a wealth of shared experience including A Prairie Home Companion, Smithsonian’s Jazz Singers & NPR’s Fresh Air (Evingson) and Montreal International Jazz Festival, Canadian Brass & Carnegie Hall (Lazarus) just to name a few highlights, Lazarus & Evingson bring a refined sensibility and adventurous spirit to the stage. Don’t miss this opportunity to hear jazz favorites as you’ve never heard them before.

The cool vocal stylings of Connie Evingson & sultry sound of trumpeter Charles Lazarus - add olives and stir for a perfect evening of music reminiscent of The Rat Pack era.

These consummate performers bring you jazz standards – from the iconic Great American Songbook featuring the romantic melodies of Gershwin, Rodgers and Kern to the evocative rhythms of Brazilian bossa nova legend Antonio Carlos Jobim - all presented with an original flair.

Charles Lazarus

“Bedazzling technique and a refined sense of musicianship”

- New York Newsday

“Lazarus could have tumbled the walls of Jericho”

- The Washington Post

“with his rich, shining tone, ... he plays smart swinging solos that go somewhere and tell a story.”

- Minneapolis Star Tribune
